Once you've become a Mason at the Grand Master's Class, you are eligible to join other Masonic organizations. The Scottish Rite (or 32nd Degree Masons) is one of the most widely recognized. Many sons and grandsons remember seeing their relatives proudly wear a double-headed eagle pin with the number 32 in the center.

If you'd like to experience even more of the Masonic tradition by becoming a Scottish Rite Mason, provide the information requested below with the assistance of the Brother recommending you.
